

symbiosis between transport, energy and community

The use of waste from households and industrial areas will generate energy to move sustainable public transport through biogas powered buses and connect the A1 users to the urban areas through a Park+Ride facility.

Caserta, Italy//

Provide quick, reliable and sustainable access from the A1 highway corridor to the urban centre of Napoli through Caserta.

Here, an integrated approach between landscape regeneration and access improvement has been found.

